

TGIFairplay Concert Series

July 29

Burro Days Kickoff!

RONNIE RAYGUN AND THE BIG EIGHTIES

Ronnie Raygun and the Big Eighties is Denver's most unique 80s band. They knew they had latched onto something in 1998 when they created the wildly successful 70s Disco band, Boogie Machine. In 2001, long before the new 80s movement began, Ronnie Raygun came on the scene and shocked everyone with their wild costumes and authentic 80s sound. Aquanet, spandex, animal prints, and what we call "puny human boots" left a bold impression in audiences' minds.

While some bands may have a "schtick" but no real substance, Ronnie Raygun and the Big Eighties delivers the goods musically with room to spare. Computer-run sound and lights round out the high tech, high energy show. Giant sticky hair abounds, and the New Wave 80s dance beat throbs in your cranium direct from a time when music and fashion were larger than life.

Brought to you by:

Prather's Market

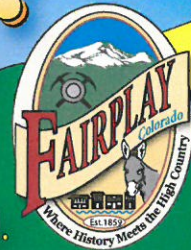

This event benefits:
Burro Days

Fireworks
at Dark

TGIFairplay!

Where History Meets the High Country

Free

Proudly presented by the Town of Fairplay

Visit Fairplay.net

6-9 p.m.

5th Street between Main & Front

rain, snow or shine